Winston Churchill's most famous speech: «The Finest Hour»

65 24

Upon this battle depends the survival of Christian civilization. Upon it depends our own British life and the long continuity of our institutions, and our Empire.

The whole fury and might of the enemy must very soon be turned on us.

Hitler knows that <sup>he</sup> ~~we~~ will hv to break us in this Island, or lose the war.

If we can stand up to him, all Europe may be freed, and the life of the world may move forward into ~~the~~ broad and sunlit uplands.

But if we fail, then the whole world, including the United States, and all that we have known and cared for, will sink into the abyss of a new Dark Age made more sinister and perhaps more prolonged by the lights of perverted Science.

Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duty, and so bear ourselves that if the British Empire and Commonwealth lasts for a thousand years, men will still say,

'This was their finest hour'.

Winston Churchill meeting Roosevelt and Stalin at Yalta Conference in 1945

*«We are masters of the unsaid words, but slaves
of those we let slip out.»*

Winston Churchill and U.S. President Truman in 1946, on the day Churchill made the famous «Iron Curtain» speech and predicted cold war

“From Stettin in the Baltic to Trieste in the Adriatic, an iron curtain has descended across the Continent. Behind that line lie all the capitals of the ancient states of Central and Eastern Europe. Warsaw, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Belgrade, Bucharest and Sofia, all these famous cities and the populations around them lie in what I must call the Soviet sphere, and all are subject in one form or another, not only to Soviet influence but to a very high and, in many cases, increasing measure of control from Moscow.”

Winston Churchill's funeral in 1965

«We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give.»
